CABINET SLATE FOR GERMANY IS SHATTERED

News of Receipt of Allied Ultimatum Starts Trouble.

PARTY LEADERS MEET Terms Still Called "Impossible" By Government.

Berlin, May 6.—President Ebert has offered the chancellorship of Germany to Prince Buelow, former chancellor of Germany under the old Hohenzollern regime, according to an unconfirmed report in circulation here this afternoon.

The Neue Berliner stated that President Ebert had been in telegraphic communication with Prince Buelow and that he was negotiating with the prince in an effort to get him to accept the chancellorship in succession to Dr. Fehrenbach. The report was received with much skepticism.

Prince Buelow was an intimate friend and adviser of the former kaiser.

Berlin, May 6.—A news agency report that the allied indemnity ultimatum had been received from London last night proved a bombshell which shattered the tentative cabinet slate of Gustave Stresemann.

The coalition party leaders were summoned to meet in the reichstag building this morning to discuss the ultimatum and to decide whether or not the coalition block shall refuse to construct a new ministry and shall give the independent socialists and communists an opportunity to sign it. The blackest pessimism reached in Wilhelmstrasse over Thursday night. All day Thursday President Ebert had been busy conferring personally with the party leaders and attempting to form the foundation of a new ministry to carry on the work of the resigned Fehrenbach-Simons cabinet.

Dr. Stresemann called upon President Ebert last evening and announced that he had virtually completed the personnel of the new government but immediately afterwards a news agency announced the ultimatum had been received from London.

After the conference Dr. Stresemann was quoted as saying: "If the allies want this ultimatum signed we must organize a communist government here."

Various members of the coalition parties who had secured knowledge of the terms of the ultimatum through newspaper dispatches from London, called the allied terms "impossible." They declared that it would be criminal to dismantle the fortifications on the eastern frontier in view of the present threatening Polish situation. They held that the question of trying war criminals should not be discussed along with indemnity but should be taken up separately.

Political circles were full of rumors and opinions throughout the day. One expression commonly heard was that "no bourgeois cabinet could be formed that would accept the ultimatum."

SAYS FARMERS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC OVER GAME REFUGE FARMS

Farmers of Ohio are so enthusiastic about the state fish and game bureau's program of establishing game refuge farms over the state that they are leasing sites for refuges to the bureau free of cost.

A. C. Baxter chief of the bureau reports. The lease does not interfere with the title of the farm in any way, merely stopping hunting and trespassing on land set aside as refuges.

Game refuge farms are restocked by the state bureau with game and the overflow from the refuge restocks surrounding territory where it may be killed during the open season for hunting. These leases run from five to ten years.

It is the aim of the fish and game bureau to establish refuges in every county in the state. Chief Baxter believes that this hope will become a reality within a few years as a result of the legislature passing an anglers' license bill thereby allowing the bureau to use hunters' license fees for propagation of game. Part now is spent for fish.

The bureau hopes soon to establish another refuge in Knox county, which is said to be ideal country for wild turkeys and pheasants.

Over one thousand acres of land have now been leased for this purpose in the northeastern section of Champaign county and has been recognized as a game preserve for some time.

ULTIMATUM RECEIVED.

Berlin, May 6.—The official text of the allied ultimatum to Germany was received at 10 o'clock this morning, it was formally announced by the German foreign office.

SEVENTY-FIVE ALLIED SOLDIERS ARE KILLED IN UPPER SILESIA

Italians Suffer Defeat By Polish Forces—Regular Warfare, Employing Artillery Is Reported From Some Districts.

Berlin, May 6.—Seventy five allied soldiers were killed and 150 wounded in battles with the Poles in Upper Silesia during the past 24 hours, according to information received here today. The Italians attempted on Thursday night to make a sortie across the Oder river towards Ratibor, but were driven back by the Poles. All the Italian artillery was captured by the Poles.

The Germans have decided not to send any regular troops to Upper Silesia, it was announced officially. The Italian casualties, according to one report, were 92 killed and wounded.

Regular warfare, with rifles, artillery and trenches employed by the fighting forces is raging over some parts of Upper Silesia.

The Italian troops attacked by the Poles were part of the international police organized under the league of nations and had been sent into Upper Silesia to preserve order pending the promulgation of the allies' decision regarding the future nationality of that province.

The Italians are continuing their operations despite the preponderant number of armed Poles opposing them.

The brunt of the fighting on the allied side has fallen on the Italian troops. There have been clashes between the French and the Poles but it is declared that as a result of the treaty of alliance between France and Poland the French are not imposing serious interference upon the Polish rebels.

The Poles threw two pontoon bridges across the stream that forms part of the Silesian frontier at Kap-

SUCCEEDS STILLMAN AS BANK PRESIDENT

Charles E. Mitchell, President of the National City Company, who has been elected to succeed James A. Stillman as president of the National City Bank, Mr. Stillman's resignation as head of the National City Bank was accepted by the directors of the institution. Mr. Stillman's withdrawal from the bank had been expected ever since his action for divorce attained such wide publicity. Mr. Mitchell is a director in several big companies, and as head of the National City Company, headed the largest investment organization of its kind in the world.

MUSIC LOVERS ARE PROMISED TREAT

A treat is promised for lovers of good music when the Men's Glee Club of the First Methodist Church of Troy, Ohio, composed of forty members will give a sacred concert at the First Methodist Church in this city, on Sunday, May 8.

The chorus composed entirely of men is receiving invitations from many cities and is unable to accept all the invitations extended them. The members travel in their own machines at their own expense and no admission is charged those who patronize their concert.

NAVY'S ROWING CREW IS SAID TO BE GOOD

New York, May 6.—Navy's great rowing crew bids fair to capture the American eight oared championship again this year.

The middies, who will row against Harvard and Princeton on Lake Carnegie tomorrow, loom up as strongly as they did in 1920. They have apparently maintained the wonderful ability to set and hold the pace that led them to the national and international titles last summer.

POLICE GUESSING OVER DRESS STYLES

Chicago, May 6.—Modern styles masculine and feminine have got the Chicago police force blessing. A curfew law requiring every one, under 16 to be at home by 10 o'clock at night became effective last night. Yet Chief Charles Fitzmorris says no special effort will be made to enforce it.

"Who can tell," quoth the chief, "whether the average dressed young man or woman is 16 years of age or not. Young women are wearing their hair bobbed, their skirts shortened to their knees, eon coats and other garments which make them appear to be young girls. School boys are almost in the same category. Most of them wear long trousers, some carry canes and others wear derby hats."

One solitary arrest marked the sum total of police activities in compliance with the curfew ordinance last night.

MRS. STILLMAN TO APPEAL CASE IF IT IS NECESSARY

Sensational Testimony Offered In Divorce Hearing.

New York, May 6.—In the event that such action becomes necessary counsel for Mrs. "Fifi" Potter Stillman will appeal her case, it was learned today, basing the appeal on the ruling of Referee Daniel J. Gleason admitting the testimony of Dr. Hugh Russell, Buffalo osteopath. Dr. Russell testified that Mrs. Stillman had told him that Fred Beauvais, Indian guide and not James A. Stillman, her husband was the father of the baby she was expecting.

Mrs. Stillman's lawyers fought hard to keep Dr. Russell from making the statements which were regarded as the most damaging evidence yet produced against the wife of the former president of the National City Bank, who is being sued for divorce.

When Dr. Russell left the stand his cross examination had not yet been completed. He is to take the stand when the hearing in the case is resumed here in the rooms of the bar association, May 8.

Europe Moving Toward Big War Says Statesman

Belief Expressed That Germany Will Again Take Field Against France After Absorbing Austria and Hungary In Defiance of Treaty.

Paris, May 6.—Europe is moving toward a new war that will wipe out the recent peace treaties and efface all the new national boundaries so carefully drawn at Paris, in the opinion of Count Andrassy, former foreign minister of Hungary and one of the shrewdest statesmen on the continent.

Hostilities will break out, Count Andrassy believes, after Germany has absorbed first Austria and then Hungary in defiance of the present treaty and feels herself strong enough to repudiate the Versailles pact and face France again upon the field of battle.

Hungary is watching the diplomatic play with intense interest and is ready to profit by it. She intends to seize all of the territory wrested from her by the treaty of Trianon and resume her former powerful position in central Europe.

Count Andrassy made known his views in the course of an interview with Charles Bonnefont, a well known French newspaper correspondent.

"The countries that sought to destroy Hungary by the Trianon treaty are already moving towards their ruin," said Count Andrassy. "The Serbs find themselves incapable of absorbing Hungarian, Croats, Germans, Bulgarians, Turks and Montenegrins, who came under their rule in the creation of Yugo-Slavia."

"The Slovaks are unhappy in the new Czechoslovak republic. The Czechs are like the Prussians. They have depressed the Slovaks with their imperious orders and in two years of experiments the Slovaks are more unhappy than they would have been under a thousand years of Hungarian rule. Only the Roumanians in time will prove themselves capable of absorbing the Transylvanian population that has come under their flag."

"Austria cannot live alone. Sooner or later, whether the allies like it or not, she will throw herself into Germany's arms. And we Hungarians—do you think with our 8,000,000 inhabitants we can resist the formidable attraction of 70,000,000 Germans? We shall place ourselves under their leadership. That will be fatal for the peace of Europe. It is easy to guess what will happen."

HARKS TO DIPLOMATIC CALL

Colonel and Mrs. George Harvey, newly appointed Ambassador to England, photographed upon their departure from New York for the Court of St. James. Before sailing Colonel Harvey said:

STRONG BOND OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN U. S. AND ENGLAND EXISTS SAYS COLBY

Countries Have Their Little Differences But Good Feeling Is There Declares Former Secretary Of State In Address In London.

London, May 6.—Great Britain and the United States may have their little differences, but there is a strong underlying bond of friendship, declared Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state of the United States, in an address at a luncheon in the American Club at the Savoy today.

"America was late getting into the war, but she came," said Mr. Colby. "She is coming late into the peace, but she will come in a fashion that will leave no doubt of the desire of the American people to discern and discharge their duty to the world."

"British and American friendship is the sturdiest fact which exists today in the field of international relations. True, we differ now and then, but of ten on analysis we differ only as to why we really agree. The unhesitating, outspoken way that discussions are conducted, are fine tribute to the deep respect we feel for each other's motives, policies and purposes. Such relations may be enlivened on occasion but an never be imperilled."

SALE OF MERCHANT MARINE IS NOT POSSIBLE IS WORD

Cleveland, O., May 6.—To sell the American merchant marine fleet, "which cost the tax payers of the United States more than three billions of dollars is impossible," without revising our navigation laws, Jas. A. Ferrell, president of the U. S. Steel Corporation and permanent chairman of the National Foreign Trade council, declared today at the eighth annual convention of the latter body in session here today. "The ships cannot be sold until a market exists for them, and until that time investors will not furnish the money to buy them," the speaker said.

COURT OF APPEALS SUSTAINS RULING

In a decision handed down by Court of appeals Thursday, the decision of former Judge C. H. Kyle, of this city, in the case of R. E. Bryson, as executor, etc., and others, against Samuel Clarkson Ellis and others, has been sustained.

The suit was brought in Common Pleas Court here for construction of the will and Judge Kyle's decision favored the plaintiffs. Indiana Ellis, as widow of Samuel Clarkson Ellis, carried the case on appeal to the Appellate Court, where the decision of Judge Kyle was sustained, and Judge Kyle's construction of the will considered correct. The firm of Miller & Finney represented R. E. Bryson and others and W. S. Howard was attorney for Indiana Ellis.

HARDING WILL ASK ADVICE ON U. S. INVITATION

Representation In Conference In Europe To Be Decided.

ANSWER REQUIRED

America Must Make Reply To Query Of the Allies.

Washington, May 6.—President Harding will consult with his cabinet today as to the advisability of American representatives again being sent to sit at the conference tables of European statesmen in an endeavor to straighten out the affairs of a strife-weary world and speed the "return to normalcy."

The allies' invitation to the United States to participate in the shape of a formal inquiry, which requires a formal and definite answer. It begins, it was learned today, by thanking the United States for the "tactful" manner in which it handled the German reparations appeal and concludes by frankly asking this government again to take part in the conference.

While officials continued to maintain a discreet silence today on the matter it can be stated authoritatively that a considerable section of the cabinet is favorably inclined toward the idea of American participation. The principal questions appear to be as to the extent of this participation and whether it will be of an official or unofficial character.

For the administration to send official representatives armed with powers to commit this government would require senatorial sanction and sentiment in senate toward the idea is not so favorable as it is in the cabinet. The senate once turned down a similar request from President Wilson and while conditions both in the senate and abroad have changed materially since that time there is still sufficient opposition to the idea in the chamber to make things embarrassing in the event of an open fight.

It is considered doubtful whether President Harding will care to risk such an issue inasmuch as unofficial representatives or observers can be sent broad solely on his own initiative and without any congressional sanction. The principal work of such representatives would be to interpret the views of the administration without binding it in any way and to keep this government advised of what is going on.

PEACE PLANS FOR IRELAND ASSUME IMPORTANT TURN

Negotiations Characterized As An Historic Event.

London, May 6.—Irish peace developments of the utmost importance are under way today. The conference in Dublin of Sir James Craig, leader of the Ulster Unionists, and Eamonn DeValera "president of the Irish Republic" was characterized by the Daily Express as "the most important event in Irish history since the 1916 rebellion."

Viscount Fisanal, the new Irish viceroy, has come to London to consult with Premier Lloyd George, while a meeting of the Ulster Unionist party was summoned at Belfast today to receive a report from Sir James Craig on the result of his conversations with DeValera.

The hope for a compromise between the hostile political factions in Ireland was running stronger today than at any other time in recent years. The opinion prevailed that the Irish troubles may be settled under the plan for a dual parliament, one in Dublin for southern Ireland; the other in Belfast for Northern Ireland. Both have been summoned to meet in June. However, there is a strong possibility that a compromise between the Sinn Feiners and unionists may eventually result in a merger of the parliaments into a single body.

TAKE UP REPORT AT A. F. O. L. MEET

Cincinnati, O., May 7.—The annual report of the A. F. of L. will likely be taken up at the second day's session of the executive council today.

President Gompers would give no definite information as to what the meeting would deliberate on today but said everything was in good shape.

William Green, vice president of the federation and secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, said no reduction in wages of miners would be accepted. About 150,000 miners are out of work completely and 300,000 are working only part time now, he said.

The international convention of the federation meets in Denver next month.

The greatest agency for its destruction is the organized church through the Anti-Saloon League. At the morning hour, Mr. F. L. Dustman, Editor of the American Issue, Columbus, O., will speak, and you will want to hear him. At the evening hour, the pastor will preach on, "Masks Torn Off." DAILY APPEALS TO RED CROSS MADE REPORT INDICATES

Should you walk into the office of the Greene County Red Cross in the court house on almost any morning or any hour of the day and you will meet some one who is making an appeal to the secretary in charge, Miss Louise B. Shaffer, for the organization's aid in obtaining compensation claims, back pay for a soldier member of their family, or to borrow an amount of money to aid the family of the soldier until other means can be obtained.

There were 474 calls such as these made to the Red Cross office during the months of March and April, according to the report submitted by Miss Shaffer to the executive board, of the organization on May 5.

In addition to the office calls made by persons, seeking advice and financial aid, there were 409 letters received and replied to during these months and twenty-four new cases to be attended to.

The amount of money borrowed during this time totalled $397, with the amount of money paid into the office reaching $688.50.

Grants to ex-soldiers and their families reached $51.75, compensation claims were filed for eight applicants and back pay received by soldiers, who sought the help of the office totalled $2,772.46.

During the month of April, Miss Hazel Hart, Field Representative from Lake Division headquarters visited the chapter and its branches. A county meeting was held to talk over plans for re-organization. A committee of three, Rev. V. E. Busler, of Cedarville, Rev. G. C. Foltz, of Bowersville, and Dr. Austin Patterson of Xenia were appointed to revise the by-laws of the chapter.

Miss Hart will return to Greene county during the first week of June, when another county meeting will be held and plans for re-organization will be completed.

TIPS ON GARDEN MAKING

There is no more practical use for a tiny patch of ground than to make of it a herb garden, a patch of taste and smell to gladden the soul. The great secret of foreign cookery and a department in which the American cook is too often lacking is flavoring, particularly for sauces. The French or Italian chef uses quantities of herbs dried or fresh, often to add tang or zest to a vegetable which has no very pronounced flavor of its own?

Stuffing for fowls is dependent for its palatableness upon the herbs which flavor it. Three or four herbs enter into some of the dressings an accomplished chef will turn out.

Only a few plants are needed of each herb. It is a great convenience to have them handy in the kitchen, for when they are needed they are needed badly. A fresh home-grown supply is worth double the dried product obtainable from the grocery store.

Sweet basil, a favorite of French bination with basil and majoram, or sauces; marjoram, used for the same purposes; thyme, often used in combination with basil and majoram, or alone or with sage; chervil, a flavoring akin to parsley, mint, to keep the lamb from being lonely and to cook with green peas or to make into jelly (no longer for juleps); summer savory to flavor soups or stews, and cook with string beans; sage, the inevitable herb of the Thanksgiving turkey, and if worse comes to worse, usable as a hair dye annual lavender, the dried blossoms of which make scent bags to be placed among the linen for the dainty fresh fragrance it imparts; a few plants of dill for the pickles; all these in a small space may be grown readily, and all except the thyme will grow from seed. The leaves may be dried and put away in cans, boxes or paper sacks, and some housewives merely cut down the whole plant and hang it to dry, protecting it from dust.

A few plants of tarragon will furnish leaves for flavoring the salad vinegar and this aromatic herb is also used in cookery.

HARDING CALLS ON NATION TO PAY HOMAGE TO WAR DEAD ON MAY 30.

BY THE PRESIDENT:
A PROCLAMATION
Whereas, This nation has been conceived in prayer and devotion by men and women who were moved under God to found a nation where principles of right should form the lasting cornerstone; and

Whereas, These principles, purchased at the price of great sacrifice, have been fostered by a worthy posterity; and
Whereas, The great war has lately laid its costly demands upon our lands,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim Monday, the thirtieth day of May, a day already freighted with sacred and stimulated memories a day of public memorial.

I invite my fellow citizens fittingly to pay homage on this day to a noble dead who sleep in homeland, beneath the sea or on foreign fields, so that we who survive might enjoy the blessings of peace and happiness and to the end that liberty and justice, without which no nation can exist, shall live forever.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia this third day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1921, and of the Independence of the United States the 145th.
WARREN G. HARDING.

The White House, May 3.

TWO NOTES.

In an even 100 words, just two paragraphs with a total of three sentences, Secretary Hughes told the German Government that its latest proposals were inadequate, not to be entertained, urged the Germans to deal directly with the Allies and to offer something next time that will meet the just obligations of Berlin.

The language is direct, clear, with not a wasted word. Pull out a single one of the hundred words and there would be loss and muddiness of meaning. Here is literary craftsmanship of a high order. Here is no studied effort or phrase-making. There is none of the rolling, ponderous, stilted sentences of the old diplomacy.

This man Hughes is a writing man. He proves it again in another note published the same day. In a virtual ultimatum to Panama he tells that baby republic without waste of words or stately flourishes, just what is what. Panama, so runs the note, must get out of Costa Rican territory, and get out soon, else the United States will proceed "in the manner which may be requisite."

The Panama note is not an arrogant message, but it marches on without the shadow of a turning. Like the German note, it is understandable, all of it. It breathes friendliness despite its stern ring of finality. Observe, too, that along with the epistle to the Panamanians the Secretary writes into his note certain articles of the American foreign policy. He serves plain notice that the Monroe Doctrine still lives and is jealously cherished by the United States.

The international correspondence of the United States since March 4 makes one thing clear. Secretary Hughes is not a rubber-stamp functionary who merely signs what other men write. Without any disparagement of the President, he does well to leave these matters to his Secretary of State. Our foreign relations are in charge of a man who does not become intoxicated on ideas and blind drunk on cunning phrases. He uses words to express meanings, policies and decisions, not as carriers of filmy propaganda.

Truth to tell, there have been times in recent years when no two men could agree upon the exact meaning of an American paper. There is evidence that such days are happily past. If so, we will be a better-informed nation on foreign affairs.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

DOING THE IMPOSSIBLE

NOBODY THOUGHT IT POSSIBLE THAT THE GERMANS COULD INVOLVE THE WHOLE WORLD IN WAR ON SUCH A FLimsY, PRETEXT

AND IT SEEMED ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE THAT THEY WOULD INVAD A NEUTRAL COUNTRY AND SHOOT DOWN NONCOMBATANTS WITHOUT TRIAL.

AND THAT THEY SHOULD WANT ONLY SAW DOWN ORCHARDS SEEMS JUST AS IMPOSSIBLE AS THE 70-MILE GUN AND THE SINKING OF THE LUSITANIA.

SO NATURALLY WE HAVE GROWN TO EXPECT A GOOD DEAL OF THEM.

SELLING YOUR SERVICES.

The young man or woman in business should study the art of applying for employment.

For it is an art, and one which may be needed badly on occasion.

"Help wanted" advertisements in newspapers bring forth responses most of which are sadly lacking in information and skill of preparation.

The letter you write to an employer is a sales letter. It is intended to sell your services. Why not, then, plan it, consider it from the sales point of view?

Put yourself in the employer's place. His desk is piled with letters like yours. Each letter is worded in much the same way—essential information lacking—with no striking differences to make a selection easy. Think less about the kind of position you want and the amount of wages you desire. Think more about what the employer wants and how nearly you can satisfy his needs.

Perhaps you are a stenographer. Tell your prospective employer that you really know how to spell and punctuate, that you are intelligent and helpful. You do not realize, perhaps, how earnestly these simple qualities are sought. A business man takes for granted oftentimes your technical preparation for your work. But he needs someone who is interested in the work, who really can be relied upon, who has the spirit of helpfulness.

Clock-watching, laziness, indifference are so frequent that the young man of even moderate ambition and intelligence and application shines amazingly by comparison.

The leaders of men and business today were once subordinates. Many of them held very lowly positions. But they cultivated five-year, ten-year visions. They did their work surpassingly well, and prepared for bigger work and bigger responsibilities.

What are your leading qualities as an employee? Do you know? Your prospective employer does not know. You must tell him, when you seek employment. Emphasize the qualities in which you excel, just as the advertisement writer emphasizes the qualities of breakfast food or automobile tires or tooth paste. Learn how to advertise your services.

MY RIGHTS.

I do not lie awake o' nights, until the clammy dawn, in terror lest my sacred rights should be infringed upon. My neighbors are a pleasant lot, their conduct always good, and no one's stugged and no one's shot in all our neighborhood. Each one assumes the other gents are fair and decent scouts, and so no one his rights laments, or for reprisals shouts. Year after year we go our way, and never have a row; and I lend Smith a bale of hay, and he lends me his cow. And I could change this atmosphere of peace and its delights, and make discordant things appear, if jealous of my rights. For Johnson's hens at times arrive and scratch up all my greengs; but better have our concord thrive than raise a crop of greens. And Bildad's dog sits by my gate and bays the moon awhile; but better lie awake till late than miss the Bildad smile. And Hawkins plays an alto horn that jars things in my flat; but he's all right, and I would scorn to punch his head for that. And when I sing "Sweet Belle Mahone," as I am prone to do, no rocks or bricks at me are thrown, the parlor window through. The others' faults we all forget, and talk of "rights" with tact, and no one's ever offered yet to read the riot act.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

A SLICE OF LIFE.

Every day or so we read a piece in the Papers by somebody who was "responsible" for Harding's Election and every time it is a different person. We are perfectly willing to give anybody credit who thinks he is entitled to it in this matter. But we would like to have The thing settled somehow, Once for all. There have been several hundred

Of these gentlemen and if they don't get together and decide the matter soon, Before their number grows Much larger, we will be Obligated to tell the truth And place the credit where it really belongs. We believe the credit goes To the author of this column And several million other Plain American citizens Who voted for Harding.

FIENDS ARE OUT OF WORK.

TWO FIENDS, cook and chambermaid, would like positions together. Inquire Argus.

A home for Geraldine is the big question facing congress at the present time. Geraldine is a "petful" Jersey cow which has been presented to Mr. Harding by a man in Libertyville, Ohio. The president is not able to accept the gift, however, until congress makes some provision in the way of a cowshed for the White House grounds. But it would seem, now that a home has been provided for the ambassador at London by a private citizen, there should be somebody patriotic enough to come forward and present the government with a home for Geraldine. The government itself could hardly afford to finance such a proposition, of course, and congress should not be embarrassed by the matter. That the White House now should not be treated as well as the ambassador to England seems incredible. This is a wonderful opportunity for some public-spirited citizen.

President Harding has fallen heir to a graveyard at Lancaster, Ohio, which has been presented to the last twenty-two presidents in turn. Strange to say, none of them has cared to accept it. It may be found necessary to turn that bit of ground into a farm, and no president will get out an injunction to stop this plan.

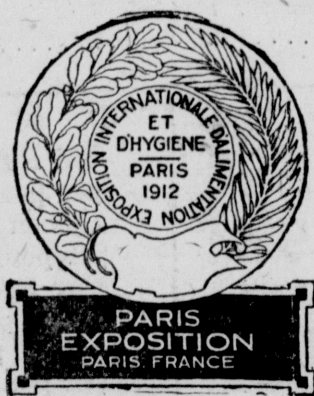

Colonel Roosevelt's particular pet while in the White House was his riding horse. Mr. Taft was particularly fond of his favorite cow, Pauline Wayne. Mr. Wilson's pet consisted of a flock of sheep. Mr. Harding's pet is an Airedale pup. Which leads us to wonder how many administrations it will be before they get down to white mice and goldfish.

The styles, under a new arrangement, are to be cabled from Paris to New York. Then it will take a gown only a few minutes to go out of style, while now it takes about five days.

ARMY OF WOMEN FORMED IN RUSSIA READY TO DISBAND

Warsaw.—Poland's Women's Battalion, of which the world heard so much in the last few years is being demobilized. The majority of its 3,000 members are returning to domestic pursuits after more than two years of military service. A small percentage will remain in Government service as instructors of military education for when in schools which are being set up for them in Warsaw, Cracow and Posen.

Colonel Alexandra Zagorska, the commander in chief of the battalion is supervising the demobilization from the cavalry barracks in Warsaw. She is a physician at Cracow, who formed the battalion after losing her only son in the war at Lemberg. Her husband, also a physician, is a professor at Cracow university.

Colonel Zagorska's office is a plain room, the walls of which are decorated with a colored print of Kosciuszko and one of Pilsudski. She is a pretty, mild-mannered woman of thirty-five, who wears a khaki uniform of American cloth with a skirt resembling a riding habit and has three decorations on her breast. An orderly stands guard outside her door although there are none, but women soldiers on duty there is an atmosphere of soldierly discipline about the place.

"Our casualties," the colonel said with the matter of factness of the experienced soldier, "have been little more than 100. We lost 40 killed at Lemberg and about 50 at Vilna. Now that peace prospects are bright for Poland our task is done, and most of my soldiers will go home, those that have them, to be good wives and mothers, as women should."

"All of the 3,000 women soldiers are being demobilized except one battalion, which is still doing duty at Vilna."

The colonel estimated that fifty women soldiers had married while in the service. If they married soldiers they continued in the battalion in preference to returning home while their husbands were also in the army.

While she was talking a company of women soldiers, trim, pretty girls of more than twenty, were going through drill in the barracks grounds. They all carried rifles and side arms and went through their manual of arms with the snap of veterans. "They are our best," she said with evident pride. "Most of those soldiers were recruited two years ago in Lemberg. They don't want to leave the service."

"Our discipline is just as severe as in the men's regiments. In fact, it has been the army's experience that women take a soldier's life more seriously than do the men and are more punctual and have a greater sense of fidelity than the men."

In reference to the Governmental scheme for educating women as officers, Colonel Zagorska said: "The Government has been so impressed with the value of women in war that it has decided to establish the schools for the military training of women in Warsaw, Cracow and Posen. We have already received 350 applications for admission to the schools from the battalion members living in Lemberg where the legion was formed and more are coming from other parts of Poland. It shows the splendid spirit of the Polish women who, more than the men are responsible for keeping burning the fire of patriotism in the hearts of the Polish youth through all our years of oppression under other governments."

"These schools will provide the necessary military training for women as officers in the sanitary corps the telegraph, telephone and educational branches of the army. In other words an effort will be made to fill all those branches of the service with women so that in the event of war more men can be spared for the fighting line."

The popular impression seems to be that all of the members of the Women's Battalion were on the actual firing line in the last two years of Poland's troubles. Only a small percentage of the women were placed in the line. Organized originally for the defense of Lemberg against the attacking Ukrainian army the legion grew fast. Its members took their place in the line at Lemberg and later at Vilna which accounts for the comparatively large number of casualties we had at those two places. But the majority have been occupied with post duty, guarding magazines and Warsaw, Red Cross warehouses in Warsaw, Vilna, Lemberg and smaller places back at the front. Incidentally the Americans have helped us considerably with such things as clothing and boots and we feel very grateful.

"Under the new training in the schools, women will enlist for three years and are liable to be called to the colors at any time within that period should the peace of Poland be endangered. One interesting proviso is that women with one or more children under seven can be exempted from military duty."

"The schools will take the best educated of the battalion members now being demobilized which includes all classes. We have 500 young women who were governesses in the best families of Poland who are already enlisted in the new training scheme. The age limit is thirty-five years."

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS PLAN BATTLE AGAINST THIEVES

Automobile owners from all parts of the state will gather in Cincinnati, April 22 and 23, for the annual convention of the Ohio State Automobile Association. Delegates from the scores of automobile clubs located in different counties will discuss pending legislation, highway development and traffic regulation.

The Atwood bill, requiring a bill of sale or abstract of title, to curb automobile thefts will be a principal topic. Motorists recognize that to reduce the chances of disposing of stolen property will decrease the incentive for theft, and a compulsory registration of title is expected to be an effective weapon against automobile thieves. More than $2,000,000 worth of automobiles were stolen in Ohio last year.

Sessions will be held at the Sinton hotel, and the speaking program will include national and state officials. Among those scheduled for talks are:

Gov. Clarence J. Brown, Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith, State Highway Commissioner L. C. Herrick, State Treasurer Rudolph W. Archer, Chief Justice Carrington Marshall of the state supreme court; David Jameson, New Castle, Pa., president of the American Automobile Association; A. G. Batchelder, Washington, chairman of the executive board of the national organization; President F. F. Bentley, Warren, and Secretary Charles C. Jones, Columbus, of the Ohio State Automobile Association; Fred H. Caley, chairman of the state association's legislative committee, and Raymond Beck, chairman of the good roads board. The Cincinnati Motor Club will be host to the convention.

BROTHER RESCUES ARMENIAN GIRLS AFTER LONG HUNT

Sandoukt (above) and Sarpouhy Bogasian.

Milwaukee. (Special).—At the home of Nazareth Bogasian, two young Armenian girls have at last found a haven of rest, after five years of nightmare.

They are the sisters of Bogasian, whom the Armenian merchant rescued and brought recently to America after he had spent many months endeavoring to locate them in the deserts of Mesopotamia.

They are very shy and very sad, these young women with tragic eyes, whose youth has been one long horror of suffering at the hands of the Turks.

Taken from their mother in 1914 and sent out into exile in the deserts they walked for forty days with the "caravan" including 25,000 Armenians.

Though thousands died by the wayside in that terrible march, the two girls lived to see their mother brutally murdered with an ax at the hands of a Turk, their father shot down with hundreds of others, and then themselves to face starvation and abuse, at one time living for three months with no other food but grass.

Torn From Husband

The oldest sister, Sandoukt, had been torn from her husband, and her only comfort had been that she could take her baby with her. But when the dread time of starvation came the little one, like thousands of others was left to die on the desert.

There is little left of the natural beauty of the girls. Their hair is rough and uneven, and their faces deeply scarred, where they disfigured them to save themselves from the fate of being taken by the marauding Turks, who nightly went thru the camps, taking for themselves the most attractive girls. The young girl, Sarpouhy, who is not yet fourteen years old, had her hair shaved and went as a boy for many months to escape the Turks.

A third sister found a better fate. Her sweetheart a young Armenian boy, escaped with her to English territory, where they were married. Her whereabouts had been unknown to her brother until he met the other sisters.

Sisters Are Located

It was before Christmas that Bogasian, through the near east relief at Bagdad, finally located the sisters he had given up for lost. He went to Europe, planning to meet them at Port Said. Through some difficulty he waited without being able to find their whereabouts. He enlisted the aid of the vice consul, Walter A. Foote, at Port Said, and this official, Bogasian says, exerted every effort and finally found the two young women.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been married five years and after I married I realized I did not love my husband. I left him once and he persuaded me to come back to him. I am so unhappy I don't know what to do. I want to do what is right, but I think it is more sinful to live with a man you do not love than it is to leave him, don't you?

He is very good to me, but I can't love him. I have tried to love him, but I can't. Any advice would be appreciated. Y. K. W.

There are different standards of right and wrong, depending upon environment and education. One person might be doing what he considered right, while another, with a more highly developed conscience might condemn his act. My advice to you, therefore, is to consider your problem carefully and then to decide as you yourself consider right.

If there are no children to consider it seems to me that a separation would be more fair than to go on in marriage without love. Your husband is being cheated, since indifference is the reward he receives for his loyal love for you. In case of separation, he would suffer, of course, but in time he might learn to love another woman who would return his affection. When there are children, however, it seems to me unfair to take them away from a good father for selfish reasons.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a mother in much distress. I want to do the right thing and still not be too hard on my daughter.

There is a young man about twenty-six years of age who is no good, as he only lies around and lives on his widowed mother's income. She runs a hotel. Just because he is a good dancer and shows his nice ways to my daughter she will insist upon going with him since she thinks she is of age to do as she pleases.

She will meet him at other places besides her home, while before she always had all her friends call at her home. Now she is going all the time and we don't know where she is or with whom.

It breaks my heart to have her think I am only mean and go against her, while I am only trying to bring her up respectfully and for her own good.

It is not because she has no friends, for she had a very dear friend whom I know she lost because she goes with this other man. I am afraid she will lose her other friends, who are nice boys, if they know of it.

Can you advise me what to do?

My daughter claims he treats her like a gentleman and as long as he is so she does not see why she cannot go with him. She says that as long as she behaves she doesn't care what people think about her reputation.

BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER.

Since your daughter is determined, I believe you should let her have her own way. Now that she is of age you really have no other alternative.

Tell her that you will not oppose her any further and that you are willing she should entertain the young man in her home, just as she does her other friends. Tell her that you would rather have him call for her at her home than to have her run of and meet him.

Perhaps the young man really loves your daughter and if he is given a chance will prove worthy of her. I do not blame you in the least for your attitude, but since you are helpless you might just as well make the best of your defeat. Try to win back your daughter's confidence by looking at matters from her point of view.

Miss Mendenhall, the teacher, presided for the evenings program which consisted of: Prayer by Rev. Smith; Songs by the school; a debate by Grace Lile and Martha Beam against Alva Mendenhall and Delmer Compton; a solo by Flora Beam; an address by Supt. D. H. Barnes; and a vocal duet by Mrs. Mendenhall and Miss Mendenhall. At the close it was decided to have a free strawberry social later on.

Peggy Hopkins photographed recently at Palm Beach.

When Stanley Joyce, millionaire lumber prince, named five men in the annulment suit he recently filed in Chicago against Peggy Hopkins, the actress, he didn't begin to tell the things he alleges he knows about her, according to Joyce's lawyer. Joyce's bill asserts the actress made trips with well known men to various parts of Europe and lived in the homes of others. Friends of Peggy deny these charges.

FASTEST SPRINTER MAY BE GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA IF CANDIDATE HAS HIS WAY

When State Senator E. Lee Trinkle, candidate for governor in Virginia, made the statement that Harry St. George Tucker, Democratic aspirant to the office, was too old to run for governor, Tucker became considerably peeved. Sez he: "If Lee thinks I'm too old, let him race me 220 yards, the winner to take the nomination without further contest." Tucker, who is sixty-nine, says he is willing to pit his age and sprinting ability against Tucker's "youth and avoirdupois." Trinkle is twenty-five years younger than Tucker.

THE NEW BUICK

IS A REAL 1921 MODEL

The Buick which you buy today is a real 1921 Model. It embraces not only the basic engineering which has made Buick famous, but all the improvements, developments and refinements which the most thorough and exacting tests up to this time have proven worth while.

Changing the color of the paint on a 1920 Model does not make it a 1921 Model, nor does putting a lot of "gim-cracks" on the dash have that result. It must go deeper than that.

We learn improved methods of carburation, of oiling; we learn that certain steels are better for certain parts of the car, than which have been in general use. We find methods of improving the electrical equipment and so on down the line.

So when you buy a 1921 Buick you get not only all the features which have made of it a world-famous car, but you get an up-to-the-minute model, one of the very few obtainable.

CAR OWNERS—Now is the time to have your car gone over and put in shape. Our Repair Department will give you the best service; only the best Mechanics employed, and with our labor charges reduced to you, you will save money by bringing your car to us for your repairs and supplies.

Our Top Department will repair your top or curtains, tell you what cost will be before we start; also our Tire Department will repair your casings and tubes while you get other work done.

It will pay you to see us for prices on tires, oils and accessories, as we have pre-war prices. No one lower on quality goods.

DEMPSEY TAKES UP TRAINING AT SEA RESORT IN JERSEY

New York, May 6.—Jack Dempsey has pulled takes at Summit, N. J., and transferred the scene of his training operations for Georges Carpenter to Atlantic City.

The world's champion was due to arrive at the famous Jersey seaside resort today where Manager Jack Kearns is having the Airport, an airplane fitted up for his use. Living and dining quarters and gym will be fixed up for the champion at Airport which will also accommodate hundreds of spectators who will be eager to watch the champion in training.

It was rumored today that Georges Carpenter may also establish his camp at Atlantic City. Agents of the French Champion here have selected Manhasset, Long Island as the site for Carpenter's camp, but it is said, Manager Deschamps has been led to consider the financial side of the training camp business for the first time and has been dickering with an Atlantic City man. As Carpenter and Deschamps are scheduled to sail from France for the United States tomorrow it is doubtful if definite word regarding their plans will be available until they land in New York.

Dempsey's training at the seashore will be very light during the first three weeks. He will not start hard work until June 1.

BEAUTY CHATS

STEAMING THE FACE

Every week I receive quite a few letters from readers who want to know whether there is really any virtue in steaming the complexion. They write that some people say steaming the face causes coarse pores and want to know whether this is true or not, since the steaming process has been so widely used in connection with beauty treatment.

Face steaming can be of benefit or harm to the skin depending entirely upon how it is done. If the skin is very sallow, very oily, coarse pored or full of blackheads, face steaming properly done can be of great benefit. The best way to do it is to remember this advice:

Do not hold the face over a basin of steaming water with a towel thrown over the head to hold in the steam. I know this is a time-honored method, but it isn't a good one. It is quite true that it opens the pores, but it opens them too effectively and therein lies the trouble.

The best way is to take an old soft turkish towel, wring this out of very hot water, as hot as you can stand it, and hold this over the face and continue doing this until the skin is red and glowing. This may take anywhere from two to five or ten minutes, depending upon the condition of your skin.

Steaming in itself is not a face treatment—it is only an introduction to a face treatment. Its only value is to open wide the tiny pores of the skin which act like an infinite multitude of little mouths, and which close up upon the dust and grime of the atmosphere.

Once you have opened these pores you can go on with whatever treatment you find most effective. You can use the Blackhead Powder to dry up the hard oil that forms a blackhead, or you can use a cleansing cream.

Elizabeth K.—Quitting is frequently done at the places where they sell sewing machines that do hem-stitching. The telephone book will help you locate them. Massage your limbs each night by using warm cocoa butter.

Curley—Vaseline or castor oil feed the roots of the lashes which increase their thickness. A beautiful way to arrange the hair when it is so abundant, is the coronet braid which is wound entirely around the head bringing it as near the front and sides as you find becoming to you.

Mary Mc. W.—A good lotion for hands inclined to chap is made from glycerine and rose water, equal parts. It is absorbed so quickly that it can be used frequently through the day.

It should be used each time after the hands have been wet, until the tendency to chap has been overcome.

RETRIAL DATE IS SET.

Chicago, May 6.—Judge Charles A. McDonald set June 20 as the date for the retrial of William Dalton, 16 years old, who took $72,000 worth of Liberty bonds from the Northern Trust Company, where he was employed. A jury disagreed as to Dalton's guilt and was discharged.

SOLDIER IS SENTENCED.

Camp Sherman, Ohio, May 6.—Sergeant Matthew O'Conner, quarter-master Corps, was dishonorably discharged from the army and sentenced to two years' imprisonment by a General Court Martial for having stolen $2,817.44 worth of Government property from camp warehouses.

An Easy Way For Thin People to Put On Flesh and Gain Weight

Strong, Straightforward Advice to Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

If you are thin, scrawny and undeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes four, substantial, fat producing meals a day but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit.

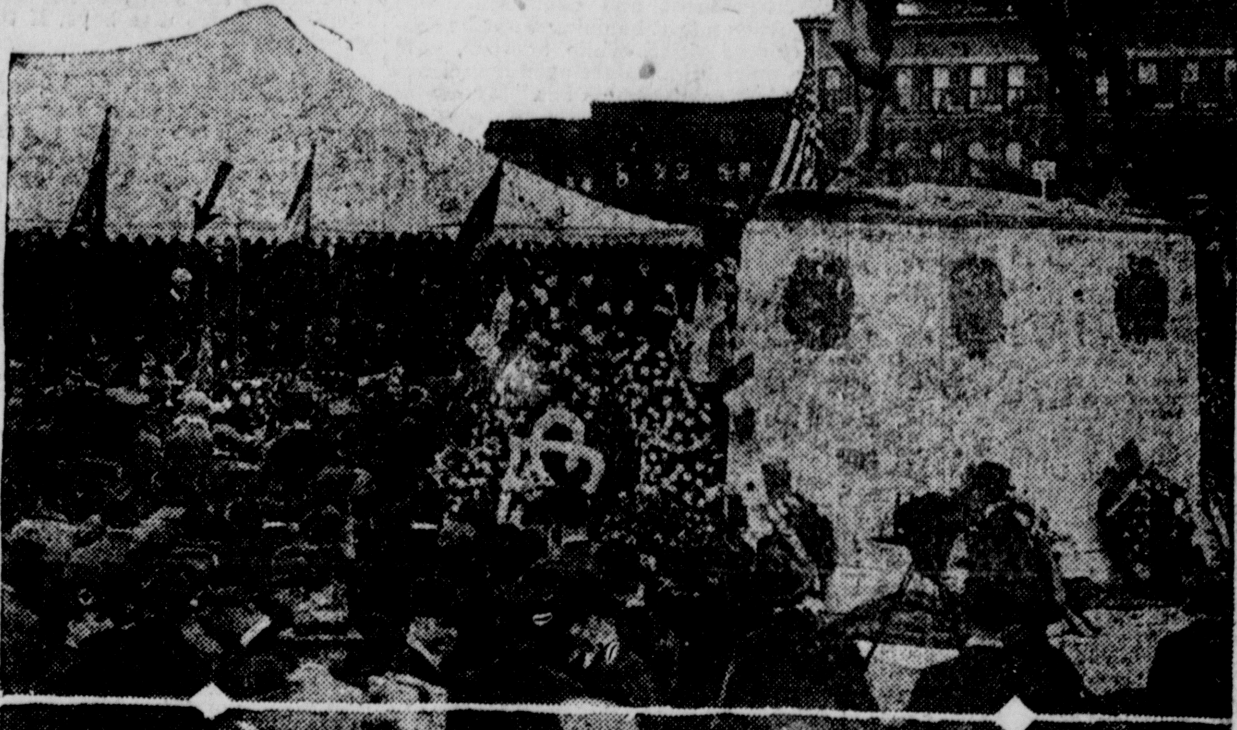

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh. Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run down people, however, with impoverished blood and half starved looks are hailing with delight a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Sohn's Drug Store, and Sayre & Hemphill, and leading druggists everywhere have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid stay-there flesh. adv

RULER OF MONACO COMES TO U. S. TO RECEIVE MEDAL

New York—(Special)—Perhaps the most unusual and probably the most scenic and democratic of all the European sovereigns, Albert, prince of Monaco landed in this country recently with less pomp and circumstance than many American tourists when the gangplank was swung aboard the French liner France at the Chelsea piers.

Prince Albert, who visited this country last in 1913, is a bit grayer now, but despite his seventy-three years he still is active physically and even more active in the science which has occupied his time for the sailing vessel a few months ago eight miles northeast of Cape May, Cuba, was one that drifted from the English Channel and was on its return drift I have calculated the time for the return trip to be about four years. Ocean travel is safe, however, if the ships keep out of the regions I have mapped.

The prince said that the cost of coal had prevented him from using his yacht, the Hironde, since the war but that he hoped soon to be able to take his vessel out to a spot in the Atlantic between his continent and the Azores to continue his deep sea explorations. He has sound depth of 18,000 meters almost four miles. His second visit to New York was in 1913 after he had gone research work off Nova Scotia and the Newfoundland Banks.

COURT NEWS

CARPENTER WILL PROBATE

The will of T. H. Carpenter, of Jefferson township was admitted to Probate yesterday by Judge J. Carl Marshall.

The document provides that the home farm of 240 acres in Jefferson township be divided into three equal parts by east and west lines, the north part to be given to Sam Carpenter, the middle section to Minnie Henderson and south portion to Nancy Jane Carpenter, with the promise that she make a home, and care for her mother, Mary Elizabeth Carpenter.

To the wife, Mary Elizabeth Carpenter, is bequeathed $2,500. To Lena Glass, wife of Harry Glass, is given 46 1-2 acres across the road from the home place, being the Nathan Carpenter homestead. She is also to be given $2,000 and it is the desire of the testator that she hold the same against her husband, Harry Glass, be cancelled.

The farm of 156 acres in Jasper township is to be divided into three parts by lines running south from the Jasper pike. To his daughter, Alta Wilkinson, shall be given the west part, but not more than 50 acres. The middle portion is to go to Della Cowan and the east portion to Anna Stephens. In other words, Alta Wilkinson is to be given 50 acres and the rest equally divided between the other two daughters.

After the payment of the $2,500 to the testator's wife, Mary Elizabeth Carpenter and the sum of $2,000 to Lena Glass, and the payment of all debts, out of the residue, including the amount derived from the sale of two properties in Bowersville, the proceeds are to go to the three daughters, Minnie Henderson, Nellie Cowan and Anna Stephens. All the property that goes to the children is generally for their use until their death, when it is to pass to their children. If they have no children, it is to revert back to the testator's children, as the will provides it must not pass out of the immediate family.

The will names the son, Sam Carpenter, executor. In a codicil, Warren Henderson, Norman Henderson and Clara Henderson, are given $200 apiece.

FANS FROM ALL OVER U. S. ARE SWARMING INTO KENTUCKY FOR HISTORIC DERBY RACE

Louisville, Ky., May 6.—The dope is all askew today as horsemen, sportsmen and racing fans from all over the United States are swarming in for the epic of the racing season, the historic Kentucky derby. "Anything can happen this year" is the nearest expression of any consensus that can be gathered on the eve of the great $50,000 classic of the American turf.

Not in a good many years, old timers declare, have turfmen been so "up in the air" regarding the probable outcome of the derby.

The weather which is alternately cloudy and bright; the track which is some time times fast and some times slow and the unknown abilities of many of the probable entries are factors contributing to the general confusion.

Harry Payne Whitney, the famous eastern turfman, is here and is sure one of his entries will win. In fact it is reported that Whitney has asked his trainer, Jimmy Rowe, to place his material for a one-two-three finish. It appeared likely today that Prudery, Tryster, and Broomspan would carry the Whitney colors.

Turf historians recalled today that if Prudery wins it will be the third time in thirty seven years that a filly has captured the historic race. Ed Corrigan's Modesty, thirty seven years ago, was the first.

In 1915 Whitney's Regret was the second of her sex to achieve the honor.

Besides Whitney nags a horse that is attracting a lot of attention is Coyne, who will be ridden by Garner. Coyne has already been wagered on extensively. Others who have their supporters are Leonardo, Exodus, Dartmoor, Red Legs, Firebrand, Black Servant and Star Vot-er.

Tragedy removed one favorite from the race yesterday when Sam Hildredth's Grey Lag, heavily layed pulled up with a spread hoof. There is not a chance of his going to the post.

Even the list of starters, officially is uncertain this morning. The official entries will be announced this afternoon.

Prince Albert of Monaco, photographed on his arrival in the U.S.

last half century. To many visitors to Monaco, not Monte Carlo's glittering casino is the attraction, but the ocean museum of the prince. And he is still busy with plans for making the museum even greater than it is now by adding specimens from the mid-Atlantic.

Accompanied by his two aids, Commandant Henri Bourret, formerly of the French navy, and Dr. Ferdinand Lounet, formerly of the French army, Prince Albert is here to receive the Alexander Agassiz gold medal the highest recognition of the National Academy of Sciences and also another medal from the National Geographic Society. The presentations will be made in Washington.

TALKS IN GOOD ENGLISH

The prince talked readily and in good English concerning his plans and almost immediately gave a practical illustration of the value of his researches in oceanography. First, however, he explained that America gives honors but seldom and he therefore came to this country to receive his in person.

Although the war interfered with his work the prince, through his detailed knowledge of ocean currents, has been able to render a great service to European governments. He said he had forwarded to various countries concerned about their merchant shipping charts showing the probable course taken by mines drifting in the Atlantic filled with potential death.

"I have plotted lanes of probable drift, warning ships to keep out of these dangerous tracks," he said. "Many mines became loose during the war and in the course of removal. These will be a menace for some time to come. Contrary to general belief the mines were not constructed according to international law, which provides that they shall be devised to become inefficient after a certain time. Germany made permanent mines first and then, I'm afraid, the allies followed the example."

"Happenings subsequent to my plotting of the drift lanes have proved my contentions, for I believe as many ships have been sunk by the mines since the war as were sunk during it. This does not, of course, include those torpedoed by submarines."

FIRST COUNTY JUNIOR RECEPTION OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS THURSDAY IS POPULAR

Junior and senior high school students from all over Greene county gathered at the First M. E. church here Thursday evening in the first joint Junior reception ever held here.

That the plan of a joint reception was popular and that it will be carried out in the future, eliminating the old plan of each school holding its own reception, was proven when Lyle Bland, junior at Osborn High School, proposed that the plan be carried out, next year, which was unanimously agreed upon by members seated at the banquet tables.

The reception was held in the Sunday School room of the church where girls and boys from opposite sides of the county mingled in fulfillment of the hope of school authorities, to encourage a better acquaintanceship and understanding among the children through the joint reception this year. As a means of working to this end, a prize of a fountain pen was offered to the boy or girl who met and talked at least one minute to the most people he or she did not know before. The prize was awarded following the banquet to Paul Platter, of Yellow Springs High School, who had the names of 104 people on his list of new acquaintances.

The women of the First M. E. Church prepared and served the banquet which followed the reception in the basement of the church. The menu consisted of chicken patties, mashed potatoes, creamed peas, rolls, fruit salad, ice cream, cake and cocoa, and the courses were interspersed with the speaking program that had been arranged for the occasion.

H. C. Aultman, superintendent of the county schools, presided at the banquet, first delivering the address of welcome after the Rev. Albert Read, pastor of the First Baptist Church here had given the invocation.

"I am certainly pleased with this gathering tonight," said Mr. Aultman, "with the fine lot of people present—the finest in Greene county. The purpose of this meeting was to get-together. I have been looking for wall flowers and I have not found a single one. In a short time you boys and girls who are here tonight will be the men and women handling the business and social affairs of Greene County. Cherish in your memory the parting words of those you have met here at this reception. Let me extend to you the words of cordial welcome and let me say on behalf of the juniors that we are certainly glad you are all here and we welcome you."

Miss Mary Barnes, of Beavercreek high school, responded to the welcome of Superintendent Aultman on behalf of the student body of all the schools. "On behalf of the student body of the county schools we express to you our appreciation for this gathering," said Miss Barnes.

Miss Eloise Farquhar of Jamestown, responded to the toast, "To the Faculty," eulogizing the teachers who had made the graduation of so many possible. Lyle Bland, of Osborn, toasted the seniors, bidding them farewell and wishing them luck and happiness. Miss Blanch Thomas, of Ross township, toasted the juniors and expressed appreciation of the first all-county reception. Kenneth Weiss, of Yellow Springs, spoke on "Ambition," on which, he said, success depends.

Miss Irene Huffman, of Bath township high school, presented a unique toast when she gave a chalk talk illustrating her subject "The Evolution of the Class." Clever caricatures on a blackboard brought forth applause of appreciation for the original toast. Miss Marie Garber of Caesarcreek High School, responded impromptu to the toast "Rose Buds," said many pretty things about school life.

Carl Cline, of the Jefferson township schools, presented his toast to "The Young Man With Ambition," eulogizing the boy who is continually striving for better things. Miss Winifred Stuckey of Cedarville, borrowed from Henry Van Dyke, for terms in which to express her toast to life. Rev. Albert Read, responded gracefully to an impromptu toast, in which he paid tribute to the teachers.

C. W. Cookson, superintendent of the Franklin county schools, who was a guest of the affair, delivered the final after-dinner talk, basing his remarks on the old mathematical rule that "two and two make four," and applying this rule to all forms of life.

Superintendent Cookson also took advantage of the occasion to impress upon the minds of the young people the necessity of a good moral standard in life. "If there is one thing I would like to thunder into your heads tonight, it is a single standard of morals," said Superintendent Cookson, in explaining the disasters of a double standard.

Superintendent Cookson's address concluded the program of after dinner speeches, and the presentation of the fountain pen to Paul Platter winner was made shortly afterward in the reception room, by Supt. C. A. DeVoe. Following the banquet the Dunning orchestra, of Sabina, which furnished music during the evening, offered several specialties, including violin specialties that were most pleasing, offered by the Rev. C. B. Dunning, leader of the orchestra.

GARRY ENGAGED? HE SAYS "JOKE"; SHE SAYS "FACT"

Mrs. Elizabeth Dougherty.

Dispatches recently carried the announcement of the engagement of August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati National league baseball team, and Mrs. Elizabeth Dougherty of Chicago. At first Garry was quoted as saying the wedding would take place next July. Later he said the report was just a joke "put up" by his friends. "Sure, we're engaged," says Mrs. Dougherty.

TO SPEND THOUSANDS TO IMPROVE PHONE SERVICE IN DAYTON

Several hundred thousand dollars will be spent in Dayton to improve telephone service, according to the announcement of D. H. Morris, division commercial agent of the Ohio Telephone Company of Columbus, made at the luncheon of the Dayton Rotary Club Thursday.

Under the merger of the Bell interests with the automatic telephones in Dayton, there will be the erection of a completely equipped central exchange; the substitution of modern, efficient automatic machinery to replace the present automatics and take the place of manual exchanges and the general extension of telephone services.

The Division Commercial Manager said that under the merger, the Bell Company proposes to use automatic exchanges entirely in Ohio, explaining that a new type of automatics would be used. H. W. Cleaver, manager of the local exchange said Friday that he had not been advised of any intention of Company to do away with the manual exchange and use automatics entirely here.

The use of the automatic system does away with considerable of the number of operators necessary under the manual system, and in these days of high labor, this system, it is believed, is popular with the Company. The local manual equipment, however, is good, according to Mr. Cleaver, and there is hardly a possibility of new equipment of the present type being installed here.

PAST AND PRESENT

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and Hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only kills enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces swollen, enlarged glands and veins.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded. It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directed and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist can supply you.

Made by its inventor
The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

THOMAS A. EDISON invented the New Edison. And in the shadow of beautiful Llewellyn Park, Orange, N. J., he built and equipped the finest, most modern phonograph laboratories in the world. There he makes the New Edison and guards its quality with zealous attention.

Think a moment! What other phonograph or talking machine is made, protected and sponsored by its inventor—by an Edison?

Mr. Edison spent three millions of dollars in research work to perfect the New Edison. Then, to prove its perfect realism, he stood the New Edison side by side with the living artist and matched its voice with the actual performance of the living artist. No one was able to detect any difference between the two. The New Edison has stood this amazing test over five thousand times before more than five million people.

Again we ask you to think a moment. What other phonograph or talking machine can sustain this test of direct comparison with living artists?

WHEN PRESIDENT AND JOHN TALKED ABOUT "SWIMMIN'"

President Harding and John Wack- erman after the president had purchased swimmin' hole tickets from John at the White House.

Every boy in the country hopes some day to talk to a president— while waiting to become one. So every lad in the country today en- vies Johnny Wackerman of Wash- ington. For Johnny not only met the president, but talked with him about things dear to every lad's heart, such as going swimming.

Wackerman called at the White House at President Harding's re- quest so that the president might buy some tickets to aid Washington boys in getting a new swimming pool.

NIGHT WATCHMAN DISCOVERS FIRE IN LEGION QUARTERS

The timely presence of Merchant Policeman Charles Phillips averted what might have been a serious fire at the quarters of the Legion Post, American Legion, shortly after eleven o'clock Thursday night, when an over-heated wall heater set fire to a partition.

Although several members of the Legion were in the front part of the building, the threatening blaze was not discovered until Mr. Phillips entered the rooms to make his rounds before locking the quarters for the night. The heater is used to heat the shower bath room and was protected by sheet iron.

Mr. Phillips found a coffee pot with which he checked the flames, while members called the Fire Department. The loss will not be great. The Legion quarters are located in the Treblein building at Detroit and Second streets, the fire occurring on the second floor in the rear. The property is insured.

SPRINGFIELD MAN MADE TRUSTEE OF STATE UNIVERSITY

Lawrence Laybourne, Springfield attorney, has been appointed a member of the Board of Trustees of Ohio State University. The appointment was made by Governor Davis, and it only awaits confirmation by the senate.

Mr. Laybourne, who is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Broadstreet of this city, and well known here, will succeed Guy Mallon of Cincinnati, and will fill the only vacancy in the board which will occur this year.

The appointment is one of the greatest honors which can come to an alumnus of the Ohio State University, which ranks fifth in size among the universities of the country.

Mr. Laybourne is a former prosecutor of Clark county, and a present member of the legal firm of McGraw & Laybourne. He is a graduate of the O. S. U. in the class of 1902.

Trustees with whom Mr. Laybourne will serve are John F. Cunningham, of Cleveland, chairman; John Kaiser, of Marietta, vice chairman; Charles F. Kettering, of Dayton; Oscar E. Bradford, of near Xenia; Thomas C. Mendenhall, of Ravenna; and Benjamin F. McCann of Dayton.

JAMESTOWN CEDARVILLE ROAD WHICH WILL BE STARTED THIS SUMMER BIGGEST JOB

The building of the new road between Cedarville and Jamestown will be the biggest road improvement undertaking to be carried on by the County Engineers this summer, according to County Surveyor W. J. Davis.

Bids on the new road will be received in Columbus, May 27, and if the road is sold at that time, the work will start immediately. The estimated cost is $219,000 part of which will be borne through state and part of which will be paid by the township and property holders along the pike.

The County road department started work Monday on the improvement of a section of the Dayton and Xenia pike between Beaver and Alpha. The road will be widened a foot on each side, making it a 16-foot road. The base will be of four-inch water bound macadam and a three-inch bituminous macadam top will then be added. Both County Surveyor W. J. Davis, and Gene Davis of Springfield, District Engineer of the State Highway Department, say that the road will not be closed during the improvement work, and are firm in their determination to keep the pike open to traffic. For this purpose, one-half of the road will be finished before the other half is started.

Other road improvement work planned by the County engineers this summer, includes the improvement of a section of the Jamestown pike just east of Xenia, and of the Washington pike just east of Jamestown. Both of these roads will be resurfaced by the state.

BUSINESS INCREASED BY GREENE COUNTY LIVE STOCK FIRM

The Greene County Live Stock Shipping Association is steadily increasing its business, according to the Greene County Farm Bureau News, several farmers having already shipped more than once through the medium of the association.

So far, 22 floors of hogs, calves and sheep and one floor of cattle, have been shipped all but two floors having been shipped in April. This is a total of 295,340 pounds, including 1,462 hogs, 19 cattle, 27 calves and nine sheep, and netted the farmers who shipped, over $27,000.

Of the hogs shipped, 121 have sold at the top of the market the day they were there. The average cost of shipping to date has been 69.1 cents per hundredweight, Pittsburgh weight, and the average drift has been 2.7 pounds per hundred weight. Fluctuating drift and expense the total difference between the farm and the market has been less than $1 per hundredweight, which can be reduced much lower if the stock is brought in in good shipping condition.

Only one loss has been recorded so far, one being crippled in transit at a loss of $3.12. There have been no dead hogs. All the shipping so far has been on a falling market, a difference of $2.95 being recorded between the top today and when the shipping started.

The commission charged by the Shipping Association is ten cents per hundred, market weight. This ten cents is divided, three cents being turned into the insurance fund and seven cents for managerial services.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Bill providing for an extension of time allowed stock moving in intrastate shipment has been passed by the Senate and House and now awaits the signature of the Governor to become a law. This measure, it is said, will save for the live stock producer an annual expense and loss totaling thousands of dollars occasioned in unloading and loading for feed and water, stock that is only a few hours from destination. The measure previously met four defeats.

ATTEMPT TO FORM XENIA CLUB IN EAST

Former Xenia people who are living in Washington D. C. are planning to form a Xenia Club in that city, according to Miss Marie P. Cisco, former Xenian, now of Washington, who is interested in the movement.

The recent movement of Charles Galloway, former Xenian, to get former Xenians who are now in Chicago together in some way has been indirectly the cause of the start of the same plan in Washington. Misses Mae Stevenson and Gladys McClellan, and Fred C. Kelley have been assisting Miss Cisco in locating Xenians in Washington but so far only 15 former residents of this city or county have been found. People knowing of former Xenians now living in Washington should write Miss Cisco at 1812 N. Capitol Street, Apartment 3, Washington D. C.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OFF YEAR IN ORCHARDS

With the peach crop of central and southern Ohio a complete failure, many growers are taking advantage of the "off year" to cut back or rejuvenate tall trees by rather heavy pruning.

"Trees can now be cut back with out loss of crop. The scaffold limbs are thus strengthened and the bearing surface lowered to a more convenient height for subsequent crops," according to F. H. Beach, extension horticulturist at the Ohio State University.

"Trees which have sound trunks will respond well to rejuvenation pruning. Where those vital parts are in poor condition such pruning will probably not pay and replacing with young trees is a better practice. Rejuvenation pruning can continue through May and still allow good renewals of young wood for next year's prospect.

"In rejuvenating old trees the tall limbs are preferably cut just above a strong lateral running to the outside. If this lateral is still too high or too rangy it can be cut back accordingly."

RECIPES FOR A DAY.
Tomato Salad—Small tomatoes, canned whole, placed on lettuce leaves daintily topped with a spoonful or two of mayonnaise.

Whole Wheat Muffins—One-third cup sugar, two cups whole wheat flour, butter size of an egg, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup sweet milk, one egg, pinch of salt. Bake about twenty minutes.

SUGGESTIONS.
Hot Compresses—A potato ricer is just the thing for wringing out compresses from water too hot to bear the hands in.

To Clean Eggs for Market—Eggs that are stained or discolored in any way, put them in water with vinegar, enough to make the water taste acid. Let stand for a few minutes and they will wash clean and be much nicer to send to market.

Suet in Rice Pudding—If you happen to be out of eggs use a teaspoon of grated suet in the rice pudding instead. It is just as nourishing and gives a satisfying, creamy taste.

For Grease Spots—Grease spots on hardwood floors can be removed if you scrub the spots first in water as hot as the hand can bear and then drop peroxide of hydrogen on them and allow it to remain until dry.

Paint Stains—May be removed from clothing by saturating with equal parts of turpentine and spirits of ammonia.

When Preparing Macaroni—Have boiling water with some salt. Set colander or perforated pan in boiling water, drop macaroni in and cover; let boil until tender, and you will have no trouble stirring or cleaning pan afterwards.

Coffee—Cold coffee used instead of water in making molasses or ginger cookies gives them a delightful flavor.

CARROT CANDIES.
Carrot Patties—Three pounds of carrots, three pounds of honey, one orange, one lemon, one-quarter pound almonds, one teaspoon ginger. Scrape and grate raw carrots. Mix with honey. Put on to boil in new granite pan, stirring often.

When the soft ball stage is almost reached, add orange and lemon cut in small pieces, also almonds and cut in quarters. Just before taking from fire add ginger. Pour on wet bread board. Press one-half inch thick and cut in pieces. Boil in granulated sugar. Keeps well.

Boiled Carrot Candy—Boil carrots and grate them cold. Weigh vegetables and add pound for pound of sugar to it, and one-half teaspoon of ginger. Cook to candy stage (presumably to soft ball, or 238 degrees), pour out on oiled plate and coat with sugar.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A FLY GOOD ARGUMENT FOR SWATTING CAMPAIGN

(Spring things flies. Flies convey disease—kill human beings—especially babies. Kill the flies.)

"The first thing I remember is before I had any legs or wings and was wiggling and squirming in a nice warm bed of stable filth, where I spent my time eating and drinking the food about me.

"After a while I began to feel uncomfortable, and found that I had grown too big for my skin. Relief came soon and my skin came off, and I ate some more manure and enjoyed it.

"In a few days more my skin again got to tight, and off it came, and then I went to sleep for I don't know how long.

Kicks Out of Skin
"When I awoke I was kicking and struggling out of a very dry, hard skin, and after freeing myself I found I was in the open air and had legs and wings and looked and felt very differently than when I went to sleep.

"I was thirsty, so tried my wings for the first time and flew to a puddle near the stable, and took a long drink after which I felt much better.

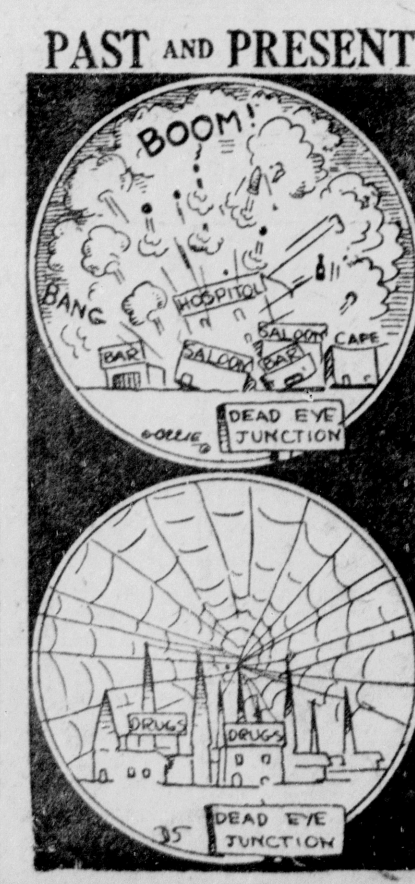

"Up to this time I had eaten nothing but filth, but I soon found out that there were other things just as good.

"I saw a lot of other flies, big and little, around an old building, far from the pile, so I flew over and had a feast.

Wades Through Food
"It was fun to wade around in your food and find so much that you hardly knew where to begin. I'm afraid I'm a glutton.

"I pent quite a while here and then flew out in the sunshine, where the white clothes were hanging on a line and walked over the napkins for a while.

"Wet things are very pleasant for a time, but my feet get covered with little pieces of food and things that wiggle around and tickle me so I like to wipe them off on a nice

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

MARGARET INTERFERES AGAIN
Chapter 34

"What do you mean?" Keith looked from his sister to me, a puzzled look on his face. "Vera has been very fond of Gloria."

"Pretended to be, you mean. Now when Gloria wants her to stay with her she refuses. She would rather go and play cards, naturally, than sit with a sick child."

"Gloria would not have thought of my staying had you not suggested it." I turned upon Margaret, while the little girl cried softly. Then to Margaret I said: "I have been caring for her all the afternoon." I added in response to something I saw in her face.

"There Gloria, stop crying, dear, Uncle Keith will stay with you."

"But you can't tell lovely fairy stories like Aunt Vera."

"No, you shall not give up the club, Keith. Take your accommodating wife and go—I will stay with Gloria myself. But darling, you will have to get along without stories," Margaret said.

Gloria's whimper now became a loud cry. I could not endure it. She wanted me and in that was a ray of comfort, although I rebelled desperately at the injustice done me.

"I will stay with you, Gloria," I said quietly, sitting down again.

Her tears ceased at once, and her little hand crept into mine, while I caught a sob in my throat and turned my head away that Margaret might not see the hatred I felt for her in my eyes.

"I am sorry you can't go, Vera. But it is very sweet of you to give up the pleasure for little Gloria. She loves you dearly, and that will be a reward," Keith said.

"You'll have to hurry, Keith," Margaret said presently. "We do not want to be late."

"You mean that you are going?" I gasped. I had not dreamed she would leave Gloria, even with me.

"Of course I am going! Gloria is not dangerously ill. She will be all right if she isn't excited. There is absolutely no reason why I should stay at home now that you are to be with her."

"I see!"

That was all I said, but the venomous look Margaret gave me showed she understood. She had deliberately compelled me to be absent from the club by suggesting to Gloria that I stay and tell stories, so playing on the child's weakness, her desire to have me with her.

Keith came in after he was dressed and took me down to dinner telling me how generous I was and that he would have to make my disappointment up to me in some way.

Margaret and I did not speak to each other during the meal, but she chatted with Keith as if nothing had happened. I envied her nonchalant poise, but could not imitate her. When I was angry and hurt I was quiet.

I remained with Gloria, telling her stories, singing to her, until 10 o'clock. Then she fell asleep, and leaving Annie instructions to call me should she awake, I went to my own room.

I was tired, too tired to do anything but sit quietly in the darkened room and think of how much I had wanted to go to the club, and how cleverly Margaret had outwitted me—as she nearly always did.

"I guess God doesn't care for me or he would help me a little," I said aloud. I had so often prayed for help for the right to my happiness. Then I begged His pardon for my wicked thoughts and once again asked Him to help me. "Please put it into Keith's heart to take me away to a home of my own." It had been a part of my nightly appeal ever since I married—this cry for a home of my own.

It was nearly 2 o'clock when they came home. I heard them laughing and talking in the hall, and then I did a childish thing. I slipped quietly into Gloria's room. I would make Keith think I had been compelled to stay there all the long evening. He would be sorry for me and perhaps

DEVALERA MAY VISIT ENGLAND

PEACE NOTE IN AIR

Catholic Prelates Want Invitation Extended to Irish "President."

London, May 7.—English ecclesiastics of the Catholic church are taking an important part in the new Irish peace movement. A meeting of prelates was held here this morning when it was proposed to send a delegation to Cardinal Bourne suggesting that the cardinal formulate an invitation to Eamonn DeValera, "president of the Irish republic" to come to London to canvass the whole peace issue. It had been reported that DeValera was on his way to London and would arrive today, but British officials professing ignorance of the proposed visit.

"We will never cease to maintain that there is a community of interest between our countrymen in the northeastern corner of Ireland (Ulster province) and the people of southern Ireland," said DeValera in a conciliatory article which he wrote for the Irish Independent. This article was regarded in some circles as a peace feeler to the unionists of Ulster, an opinion that was born out by the conference between DeValera and Sir James Craig leader of the Ulster unionists at Dublin.

The Ulster unionists issued a manifesto suggesting that after the elections of the northern Ireland and southern Ireland parliaments that both legislatures be combined to form a constituent assembly to arrange a settlement for the whole country.

Sir James Craig in a speech at Belfast Friday night, appealed for the support of the majority "so as to be able to speak constitutionally in behalf of Ulster province."

GRANDVIEW HEIGHTS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR MAY BE SECURED

I. S. Jones, athletic director of the Grandview Heights High School, Columbus, was in Xenia Saturday conferring with Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz, and members of the Board of Education in regard to an offer to come to this city.

The athletic committee of the Board of Education decided some time that an athletic director should be obtained, rather than carry on the plan of dividing the work with a member of the faculty, or giving it to someone not associated with the schools. The fact that the new gymnasium in the Central High School building will afford opportunity for all pupils to take up some branch of physical development, hastened the desire to retain an instructor in that department.

Should Mr. Jones decide to accept the offer of the local Board, he will start his duties here next year, on part time as athletic director and part time as teacher in the science department. With the opening of the new building however, the athletic director will have no teaching of school subjects on his program, but will devote all of his time to the physical training of the students.

Mr. Jones who has been offered the position is a native of Jackson Co. and a graduate of Rio Grande College, near Gallipolis, Ohio, with special work as a teacher in the science department. He has been doing athletic training work for five years, and for the last two years has been located at Grandview Heights, having been retained there during the Superintendency of Mr. Waltz, before the latter came to this city.

The physical development of all students including education in calisthenics and gymnasium work, and the coaching of football, basketball, baseball and track teams, and girls basketball teams, will comprise most of the work of the athletic instructor.

Mr. Jones returned to Grandview Heights Saturday afternoon and will inform Mr. Waltz of his disposition of the offer later.

BEAR A THOUGHT OF MOTHER, SUNDAY

Sunday, is Mother's Day!
It is the one day in the 365 that is set aside solely to honor her.

It is a day given over to her as a tribute to her part in your success—whatever it may be and her cheer and love that is ever with you, no matter how hard life's battle has been or how ill you have fared.

If she is alive, you should plan to see her, perhaps to give her some small token of the esteem and love in which you hold her; to write to her at least, and to wear a flower in her honor.

If she has passed on, give thought to what she meant and still means to you, and draw resolutions from those thoughts.

Sunday is Mother's Day. Bear her a thought, if it is only expressed by the little flower you wear.

Dunn Emergency act May Go To Referendum

Act Providing Reorganization of State Departments Under Heavy Fire—Endeavor Will Be Made to Have It Declared Unconstitutional.

Columbus, O., May 7.—State Senator John F. Burke, Elyria, Republican, has asked Secretary of State Smith to make formal declaration as to what size of referendum blanks should be relative to the Dunn emergency act providing for reorganization of state departments.

Taking from the hands of Attorney L. D. Hamlin, of Elyria, Senator Burke's counsel, a form of petition and a synopsis of the Dunn act, Secretary Smith said he will take no official action in the matter until he has consulted with Attorney General Price.

Sensors Burke, Bender, Cuyahoga and Endley, Richland county, Republicans, and Senator Reynolds, Cuyahoga county, Democrat, cast the four votes registered against the emergency clause when it was adopted in the senate. Senators Burke, Bender and Reynolds voted against the bill proper, also.

It is expected that Attorney General Price will advise Secretary Smith to reject Senator Burke's application that the secretary of state will comply with the attorney general's advice and that Senator Burke's attorneys will then file suit in the state supreme court in an endeavor to have the court declare the emergency act unconstitutional and to order the secretary of state to take such steps as are necessary in connection with plans for submitting the Dunn act to a referendum at the November election.

CANNOT SEARCH PRIVATE HOUSES FOR STILLS

Akron, O., May 7.—Courts cannot issue search warrants to hunt for stills in private dwellings. This was the decision handed down today by Judge E. D. Fritch of Common Pleas court. "Such warrants," continued the court, "can be issued only to search for liquor offered for sale in residences or in houses, part of which are used for stores or business places."

Judge Fritch also announced that the Cribbe Act does not authorize courts of common pleas to issue warrants but designates this authority to justices of the peace, mayors and police judges.

STRANGLER LEWIS LOSES WORLD TITLE

New York, May 7.—A grappling error by Ed. "Strangler" Lewis has today cost him the heavyweight wrestling championship.

The wrestling crown is reposing on the bald brow of Stanislaus Zbyszko, who pinned Lewis to the mat in the surprisingly fast time of 23 minutes, 17 seconds.

The men had been wrestling on fairly even terms when Lewis suddenly made a lunge at Zbyszko in an attempt to clamp on the headlock. The hold slipped over "Zibby's" bald head and Lewis lost his balance falling flat on his back. In a trice the Pole was upon him and within five seconds was declared the victor by Referee Bothner.

GERMAN MENUS MUST SHOW PRICES

Berlin.—The English on the Rhine "have got to be shown." Prompted by complaints by the British that they are being gouged, the interallied Rhineland Commission has issued orders that throughout the British occupied area wine cards in all cafes and restaurants must contain price lists in the English language. Prices with and without tax must be given it is ruled and the same is ordered for tickets to theatres and other places of entertainment.

SUPREME COURT "LEAK" CASES TO BE INVESTIGATED

"Newspaper" Editor Turns Up Source Of "Leaks" Used in Stock Market Gambling.

Washington, May 7.—Argument on the United States supreme court "leak" cases, involving the question of whether it is criminal to surreptitiously obtain advance information on decisions of the highest court and use such information for speculation purposes, will be held next Friday. It was announced today by District Attorney John E. Laskey.

The argument will be on the motion to quash the indictment which was found against Ashton F. Embry, former private secretary to Associate Justice McKenna; F. M. Mayer, a broker, B. E. Moses, a lawyer and J. Harwood Graves, a former attorney in the department of justice.

The indictment charges that defendants conspired to obtain advance information on supreme court decisions that they used it to speculate in stocks which would be affected by such decision to their own financial advantage.

In this case it is alleged the accused bought and sold the stock on information obtained through the confidential relations which Embry enjoyed with the court.

Counsel for the indicted men filed a demurrer to the indictment arguing that no existing law was violated.

The case was brought to the attention of the government by Marlen E. Pew, editor and general manager of the International News Service.

TWO CASES OF SMALL POX IN COUNTY NOW SAYS DR. R. H. GRUBE

That there are at present two cases of small pox in Greene county, is the statement of Dr. R. H. Grube, Health Commissioner.

The two cases are those of Edward Thurman on Trumbull street and George Chambliss of Charles street.

When reported to the health officer, there had been three children in the Thurman family who had had the disease without being quarantined. Mr. Thurman is now recovering from the disease. The case of Mr. Chambliss is the only one in that family.

"The danger lies in children who have a slight attack of the disease which is neglected, and the disease is in this way carried to another older person who has a severe case of the disease as a result. If the health department could isolate the minor cases the problem would practically be solved," Dr. Grube stated.

The two cases of communicable diseases are the only cases of small pox that he has found in the county, Dr. Grube also stated. The few cases of scarlet fever near Yellow Springs recently reported, have been cured and the slight epidemic overcome.

CITIZENS OF YELLOW SPRINGS PREVENT CLOSING SCHOOLS

A statement published in the Cedarville Herald of this week, that the Yellow Springs schools closed down Friday because of lack of funds, was denied Saturday by Harold Little, Superintendent of Schools at Yellow Springs.

Mr. Little admitted that the schools had been in financial difficulties, and that it was rumored that a month would have to be eliminated from the school year. A mass meeting was called last Monday night to consider what to do, and as a result a committee solicited for extra funds to run the schools this week.

The solicitors raised $900, enough to have the schools finish their regular term, and the schools will not close until June 3. Both the high school and grade schools were affected by the money shortage, which was averted by the support of the townspeople.

EX-U. S. SOLDIERS JOIN IRISH ARMY

London, May 7.—Many Irish-Americans who were officers in the United States Army during the world war, have arrived in Ireland to join the Irish republican army it was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon. Some of the Irish-Americans were said to have been in training several months studying "ambush fighting." It is believed that the Irish republican army command is organizing a squadron composed exclusively of Irish-Americans.

IN MEMORY

Sixth Anniversary of the Sinking of the Lusitania

New York May 7.—Today is the sixth anniversary of the war's greatest horror—the sinking of the Lusitania. The great liner was torpedoed off the Irish coast by the German submarine U-39 in the afternoon of May 7, 1915, with the loss of 1,154 lives, 114 of them Americans. Just thirteen months ago the International News Service scored one of the greatest newspaper achievements of recent years by printing the log of the commander of the U-39 giving the personal story of the German who was responsible for this atrocity.

BABIES IN BUNCHES PROMISED BY COMET

If the word of Professor Charles Kirschhoff of Milwaukee, is to be taken as high authority, the passing of the comet Pons-Winncke, is going to be the means of many a reconstruction and sleepless nights.

For listen to this: "The movements of Mars and Venus during the month of January mean but one thing. They constitute but one thing, which is known as a fruitful zodiac. Within the next six years the birth of a single child will be an exception to the rule, just as the birth of twins and triplets is regarded now as an exception. The first of the crop of 'doubles' will arrive about June 1.

"If as we said before, the world of the gentle man with the Bolshevik name is authoritative, Xenia when the next census comes around can swell her chest, and have only the good old comet to thank for the increase in her inhabitants.

"Not only comets and zodiacs are the cause of the great change, Old Man War has this included in his list of results, for it is also said that an increased birth rate invariably follows wars and plagues.

U. S. TO AGAIN SIT IN COUNCIL

Col. Harvey To Act as President's Personal Representative

DISARMAMENT Is Favored By Harding at Some Date In the Near Future.

Washington, May 7.—One of the first matters of major international importance which Colonel George Harvey, acting as the personal representative of the president of the United States will bring to the attention of the inter-allied supreme council is the matter of universal or "approximate" disarmament.

This is the clear understanding prevailing here today among those in the navy and army who have been consistently advocating that the administration initiate steps to call a general conference of the nations in Washington. With few exceptions, the authors of the half dozen resolutions on the subject now pending, have agreed to defer pressing for action until the American representatives at the council tables of Europe have sounded out sentiment over there.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, author of a rider to the naval appropriation bill which provides for a "naval holiday" between the great powers—Great Britain, Japan and the United States—is among those who have not signified their willingness to allow the matter to go over.

The administration, in the language of President Harding himself, is "very cordially disposed" toward disarmament. The president however, does not feel that the present is a propitious time to initiate steps in this direction because of the unsettled conditions of the world. Nor does he feel that it is properly the duty of any one nation to take the lead.

President Harding is of the opinion it can be stated, that the world's interests can best be served by permitting disarmament steps to originate or less simultaneously among a group of great powers such as are represented in the supreme council and spring from one power alone. The president and his advisers are fully cognizant of the fact that America is not regarded abroad as too altruistic and selfish as some imagine.

Comment was extremely guarded in senatorial circles today over the administration's decision to again participate in the councils of European statesmen, while few senators were disposed to speak for publication, it can be stated authoritatively that the news was not particularly pleasing to the irreconcilable group who opposed the treaty and league. They drew some comfort however in the fact that the American representative if there had to be one was Col. Harvey, the most irreconcilable of irreconcilables on the league.

The Democrats who supported president Wilson in the long and bitter fight were well pleased. They pointed out that the position of the United States so far as representation abroad goes, is exactly the same as it was during the months prior to Mr. Wilson's defeat.

ALLIED TROOPS SHORT OF ARMS LOSE ARTILLERY

Berlin, May 7.—Polish rebels have invested Koenigschuetz, Gletwitz and Nicola, three important towns in Upper Silesia, and have already inflicted more than 100 casualties upon the Italian troops who have borne the brunt of the fighting on the allied side, according to information from Beuthen today.

The Poles were said to be menacing the Oppeln district, the seat of the inter-allied control commission. The allied troops, estimated at more than 10,000 men are short of arms but the Poles have captured in the past few days have captured a large amount of artillery from the Italian plebescite troops.

Heavy fighting has occurred in the region of Gross-Strehlitz where the Poles attacked the Italians with infantry and artillery.

The action of Adelbert Korfanty, the Polish commissioner, in declaring himself president of the free state of Upper Silesia has caused much apprehension among allies.

A sensation was caused here by an announcement by Herr Dominicus, Prussian minister of interior, in the Prussian landtag, that a French officer and French soldiers were captured while assisting Polish insurgents to dynamite the Oppeln-Brieg railway.

FOUR BOYS KILLED TRAIN HITS AUTO

Canton, O., May 7.—County and wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad officials today are conducting an investigation into the deaths of four and serious injuries of six other New Baltimore boys, ranging in age from 9 to 16 years old, which occurred late yesterday afternoon when a Wheeling and Lake Erie special train crashed into an automobile carrying them to Hartsville. Responsibility for the accident will not be placed for several days.

The boys were members and supporters of the New Baltimore school baseball team and were going to Hartsville to play the school team from that place. It was to be the last ball game of the season for the teams. There were three auto loads of them, the first driven by Professor Schue of the New Baltimore school. The accident occurred at a crossing in Hartville where the view of the tracks are obstructed by a large grain elevator. The school principal and his car got across the track safely, then saw the special passenger train bearing down at a rapid rate. It had been placed in service to furnish transportation between Canton and Cleveland during the Northern Ohio traction strike. The occupants of the first car waved frantically to the car following but the warning was too late and the train crashed into the auto, tossing it into the air against the side of the grain elevator fifty feet away.

CHILD APPOINTED AMBASSADOR, SAID

Tokio May 6.—Intimation from Washington that Richard Washburn Child the writer, may be appointed U. S. Ambassador to Japan, aroused high interest here today, especially in view of the fact that many Americans regard Mr. Child as being friendly toward Japanese aspirations.

The foreignoffice has not yet received any notification from Washington that a new American ambassador has been selected.

Mr. Child was a class mate of Edward Bell, counselor to the American embassy and present American charge d'affaires.

"PICKS 'EM YOUNG"

Palmer yesterday after fifteen year old May Fost testified she had been meeting Hatfield at least once a week for two years. She was in the sixth grade. Hatfield's wife recently divorced him, naming a "young girl" said to be the complainant in the hearing.

NIGHT WATCHMAN DISCOVERS FIRE IN LEGION QUARTERS

The timely presence of Merchant Policeman Charles Phillips averted what might have been a serious fire at the quarters of Foody Post, American Legion, shortly after eleven o'clock Thursday night, when an over-heated wall heater set fire to a partition.

Although several members of the Legion were in the front part of the building, the threatening blaze was not discovered until Mr. Phillips entered the rooms to make his rounds before locking the quarters for the night. The heater is used to heat the shower bath room and was protected by sheet iron.

Mr. Phillips found a coffee pot with which he checked the flames, while members called the Fire Department. The loss will not be great. The Legion quarters are located in the Treblein building at Detroit and Second streets, the fire occurring on the second floor in the rear. The property is insured.

Mr. Laybourne is a former prosecutor of Clark county, and a present member of the legal firm of McGrew & Laybourne. He is a graduate of the O. S. U. in the class of 1902.

JAMESTOWN CEDARVILLE ROAD WHICH WILL BE STARTED THIS SUMMER BIGGEST JOB

The building of the new road between Cedarville and Jamestown will be the biggest road improvement undertaking to be carried on by the County Engineers this summer according to County Surveyor W. J. Davis.

Bids on the new road will be received in Columbus, May 27, and if the road is sold at that time, the work will start immediately. The estimated cost is $219,000 part of which will be borne through state and part of which will be paid by the township and property holders along the pike.

The County road department started work Monday on the improvement of a section of the Dayton and Xenia pike, between Beaver and Alpha. The road will be widened a foot on each side, making it a 16-foot road. The base will be of four-inch water bound macadam and a three-inch bituminous macadam top will then be added. Both County Surveyor W. J. Davis, and Gene Davis of Springfield, District Engineer of the State Highway Department, say that the road will not be closed during the improvement work, and are firm in their determination to keep the pike open to traffic. For this purpose, one-half of the road will be finished before the other half is started.

Other road improvement work planned by the County engineers, this summer, includes the improvement of a section of the Jamestown pike just east of Xenia, and of the Washington pike just east of Jamestown. Both of these roads will be resurfaced by the state.

BUSINESS INCREASED BY GREENE COUNTY LIVE STOCK FIRM

The Greene County Live Stock Shipping Association is steadily increasing its business, according to the Greene County Farm Bureau News, several farmers having already shipped more than once through the medium of the association.

So far, 22 floors of hogs, calves and sheep and one floor of cattle, have been shipped all but two floors having been shipped in April. This is a total of 255,340 pounds, including 1,462 hogs, 19 cattle, 27 calves and nine sheep and netted the farmers who shipped, over $27,000.

Of the hogs shipped, 1321 have sold at the top of the market the day they were there. The average cost of shipping to date has been 69.1 cents per hundredweight, Pittsburgh weight, and the average drift has been 2.7 pounds per hundred weight. Figuring drift and expense the total difference between the farm and the market has been less than $1 per hundredweight, which can be reduced much lower if the stock is brought in in good shipping condition.

Only one loss has been recorded so far, one being crippled in transit at a loss of $3.12. There have been no dead hogs. All the shipping so far has been on a falling market, a difference of $2.95 being recorded between the top today and when the shipping started.

The commission charged by the Shipping Association is ten cents per hundred, market weight. This ten cents is divided, three cents being turned into the Insurance fund and seven cents for managerial services.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Bill providing for an extension of time allowed stock moving in intrastate shipment has been passed by the Senate and House and now awaits the signature of the Governor to become a law. This measure, it is said, will save for the live stock producer an annual expense and loss totaling thousands of dollars occasioned in unloading and loading for feed and water, stock that is only a few hours from destination. The measure previously met four defeats.

CHICAGO HAS CURFEW
Chicago, May 6.—A curfew ordinance requiring children under 16 years of age to be off the street after 10 p. m. goes into effect here tonight. The ordinance makes parents culpable in case of violation.

BRINGING UP FATHER

ATTEMPT TO FORM XENIA CLUB IN EAST

Former Xenia people who are living in Washington D. C. are planning to form a Xenia Club in that city, according to Miss Marie P. Cisco, former Xenian, now of Washington, who is interested in the movement.

The recent movement of Charles Galloway, former Xenian, to get former Xenians who are now in Chicago together in some way has been indirectly the cause of the start of the same plan in Washington. Misses Mae Stevenson and Gladys McClellan, and Fred C. Kelley have been assisting Miss Cisco in locating Xenians in Washington but so far only 15 former residents of this city or county have been found. People knowing of former Xenians now living in Washington should write Miss Cisco at 1812 N. Capitol Street, Apartment 3, Washington D. C.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OFF YEAR IN ORCHARDS

With the peach crop of central and southern Ohio a complete failure, many growers are taking advantage of the "off year" to cut back or rejuvenate tall trees by rather heavy pruning.

"Trees can now be cut back with out loss of crop. The scaffold limbs are thus strengthened and the bearing surface lowered to a more convenient height for subsequent crops" according to F. H. Beach, extension horticulturist at the Ohio State University.

"Trees which have sound trunks will respond well to rejuvenation pruning. Where those vital parts are in poor condition such pruning will probably not pay and replacing with young trees is a better practice. Rejuvenation pruning can continue through May and still allow good renewals of young wood for next year's prospect.

"In rejuvenating old trees the tall limbs are preferably cut just above a strong lateral running to the outside. If this lateral is still too high or too rangy it can be cut back accordingly."

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A FLY GOOD ARGUMENT FOR SWATTING CAMPAIGN

(Spring things fly. Flies convey disease—kill human beings—especially babies. Kill the flies.)

"The first thing I remember is before I had any legs or wings and was wiggling and squirming in a nice warm bed of stable filth, where I spent my time eating and drinking the food about me.

"After a while I began to feel uncomfortable, and found that I had grown too big for my skin. Relief came soon and my skin came off, and I ate some more manure and enjoyed it.

"In a few days more my skin again got to tight, and off it came, and then I went to sleep for I don't know how long.

Kicks Out of Skin
"When I awoke I was kicking and struggling out of a very dry, hard skin, and after freeing myself I found I was in the open air and had legs and wings and looked and felt very differently than when I went to sleep.

"I was thirsty, so I tried my wings for the first time and flew to a puddle near the stable, and took a long drink after which I felt much better.

"Up to this time I had eaten nothing but filth, but I soon found out that there were other things just as good.

"I saw a lot of other flies, big and little, around an outbuilding, not far from the pile, so I flew over and had a feast.

Wades Through Food
"It was fun to wade around in your food and find so much that you hardly knew where to begin. I'm afraid I'm a glutton.

"I pented quite a while here and then flew out in the sunshine, where the white clothes were hanging on a line and walked over the napkins for a while.

"Wet things are very pleasant for a time, but my feet get covered with little pieces of food and things that wiggle around and tickle me so I like to wipe them off on a nice

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

MARGARET INTERFERES AGAIN
Chapter 34

"What do you mean?" Keith looked on from his sister to me, a puzzled look on his face. "Vera has been very fond of Gloria."

"Pretended to be, you mean. Now when Gloria wants her to stay with her she refuses. She would rather go and play cards, naturally, than sit with a sick child."

"Gloria would not have thought of my staying had you not suggested it." I turned upon Margaret, while the little girl cried softly. Then to Keith, "Margaret came in and proposed I stay and tell Gloria stories. I have been caring for her all the afternoon." I added in response to something I saw in his face.

"There Gloria, stop crying, dear, Uncle Keith will stay with you."

"But you can't tell lovely fairy stories like Aunt Vera."

"I'll try, dear."

"No, you shall not give up the club, Keith. Take your accommodating wife and go—I will stay with Gloria myself. But darling, you will have to get along without stories," Margaret said.

Gloria's whimper now became a loud cry. I could not endure it. She wanted me and in that was a ray of comfort, although I rebelled desperately at the injustice done me.

"I will stay with you, Gloria," I said quietly, sitting down again.

Her tears ceased at once, and her little hand crept into mine, while I caught a sob in my throat and turned my head away from that Margaret might not see the hatred I felt for her in my eyes.

"I am sorry you can't go, Vera. But it is very sweet of you to give up the pleasure for little Gloria. She loves you dearly, and that will be a reward," Keith said.

"You'll have to hurry, Keith," Margaret said presently. "We do not want you mean that you are going?" I gasped, I had not dreamed she would leave Gloria, even with me.

"Of course I am going! Gloria is not dangerously ill. She will be all right if she isn't excited. There is absolutely no reason why I should stay at home now that you are to be with her."

"I see!"

That was all I said, but the venomous look Margaret gave me showed she understood. She had deliberately compelled me to be absent from the club by suggesting to Gloria that I stay and tell stories, so playing on the child's weakness her desire to have me with her.

Keith came in after he was dressed and took me down to dinner telling me how generous I was and that he would have to make my disappointment up to me in some way.

Margaret and I did not speak to each other during the meal, but she chatted with Keith as if nothing had happened. I envied her nonchalant poise, but could not imitate her. When I was angry and hurt I was quiet.

I remained with Gloria, telling her stories, singing to her, until 10 o'clock. Then she fell asleep, and leaving Annie instructions to call me should she awake, I went to my own room.

I was tired, too tired to do anything but sit quietly in the darkened room and think of how much I had wanted to go to the club, and how cleverly Margaret had outwitted me—as she nearly always did.

"I guess God doesn't care for me or he would help me a little," I said aloud. I had so often prayed for help for the right to my happiness. Then I begged His pardon for my wicked thoughts and once again asked Him to help me. "Please put it into Keith's heart to take me away to a home of my own." It had been a part of my nightly appeal ever since I married—this cry for a home of my own.

It was nearly 2 o'clock when they came home. I heard them laughing and talking in the hall, and then I did a childish thing. I slipped quietly into Gloria's room. I would make Keith think I had been compelled to stay there all the long evening. He would be sorry for me and perhaps
